

Exhibit "A"

Existing Conditions

Exhibit "B"

Proposed Renovations

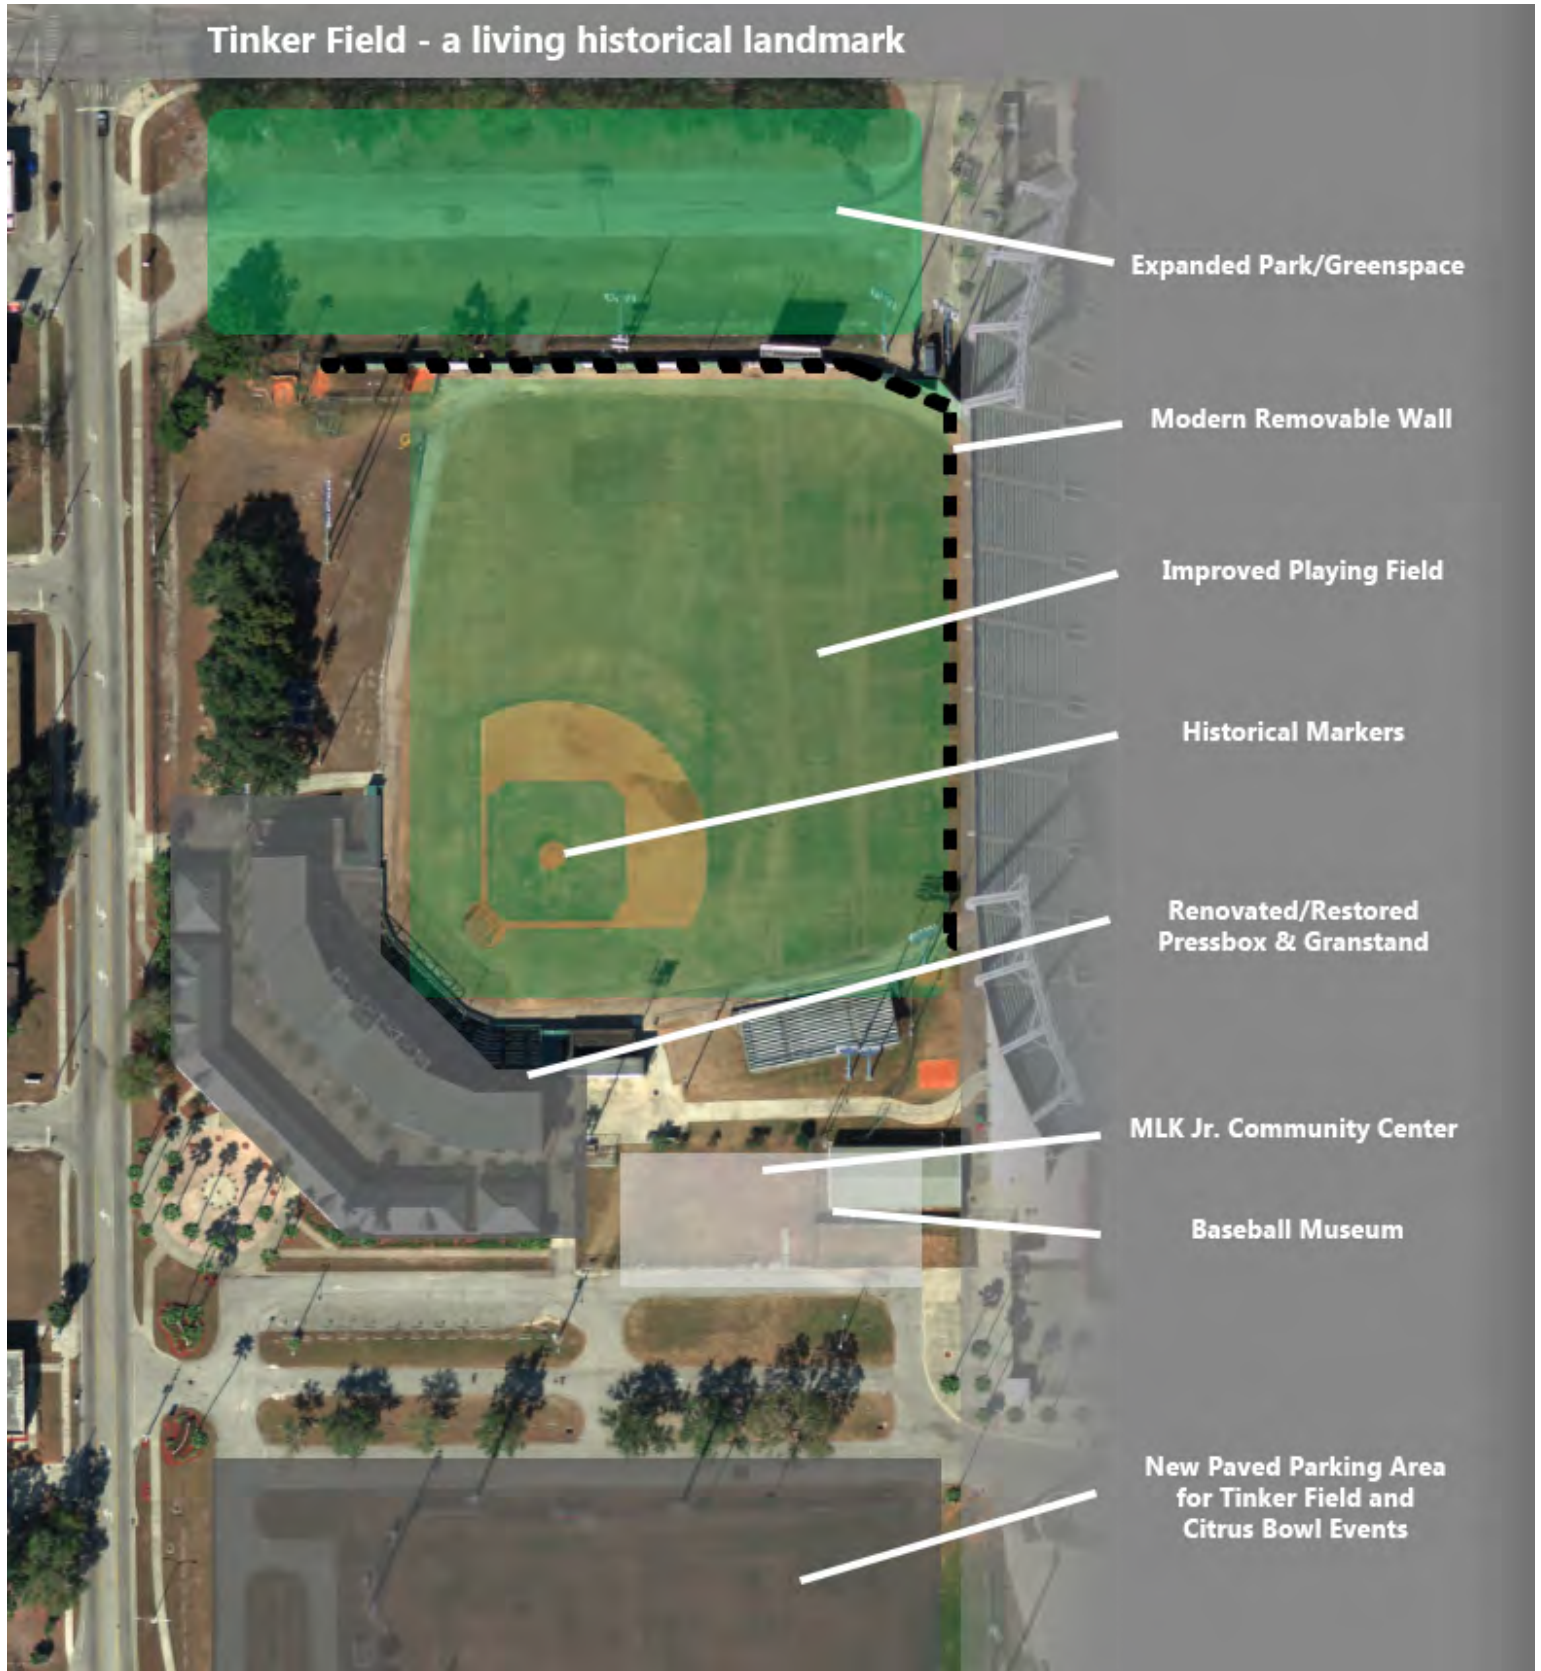

Exhibit "C"

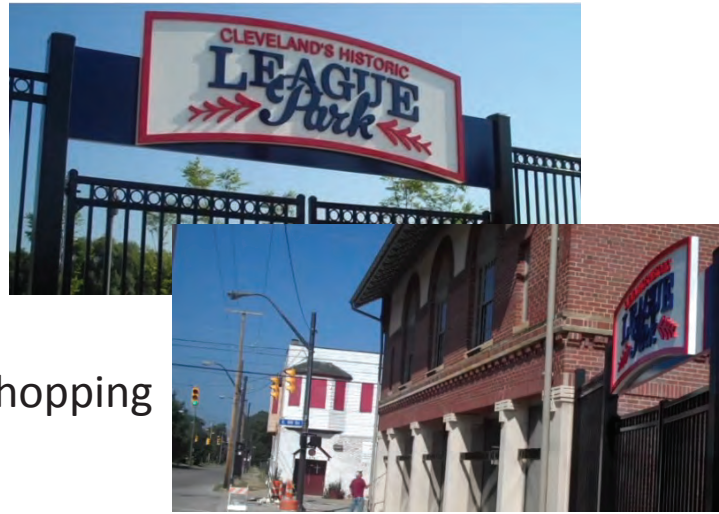

Recent Examples of Investment

Cleveland

Historic League Park

$6.3 million restoration project

- Refurbished three-story ticket booth and locker room into museum
- Brick grandstand with new artwork
- Brand new bathrooms, concessions and shopping
- New memorial

Cincinnati

New Urban Youth Academy

$7 million investment

- Four-field complex and 33,000 square-foot indoor facility
- Includes classroom space and technology center for children
- References of shared community baseball history

Chicago

Palmer Park, Tuley Park and Jackie Robinson Park

$6.5 million investment

- Renovations to support programs and leagues at the three fields
- New turf fields, concessions and restrooms
- Expansion of baseball and softball youth programming

Exhibit "D"

Reasons to Invest

Tinker Field is the most historic of all the Orlando Venues.

On May 14, 2004, Tinker Field was added to the U.S. National Register of Historic Places.

More importantly, Tinker Field is the site of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s historic Orlando speech in 1964.

On April 2, 2014, the Orlando Historic Preservation Board voted to designate Tinker Field as a local landmark, with the 1963 grandstand and historic playing field as contributing.

Youth Programs

Cultural Importance

Community Development

Sports Tourism

Historical Landmark

"I want to put my two cents out there to save Tinker Field."

-Davey Johnson

Former MLB Manager
and Tinker Field Batboy